ROOT GRAFTS

For over forty years during the winter months, we have been putting up root grafts for the trade and for our own planting. In this work only experienced and skilled workmen are used. We are prepared to make root grafts of any style or length wanted and make the prices accordingly.

We use orchard scions extensively, and strong, healthy seedlings, grown by ourselves from the very hardiest and best seed that can be procured. Our grafts are wrapped with a waxed thread specially prepared for this purpose and are tied on in hundreds in a bunch, properly labeled and packed in a frost-proof collar to callons.

Each order is grafted by itself and packed separately until shipped. They are repacked and inspected several times during the winter so they are in the best condition at shipping time.

It is very important that orders be placed early. We can then give them closer attention and supply a larger list of varieties than later in the season. Our grafting season begins about the first of January and continues throughout the winter.

Grafts should be planted out early in the spring in well-prepared ground. In our own plantings we set them about eight inches apart in the row, making the rows three feet, six inches wide. It is very essential that the earth be well pressed around the root.

As our grafts are put up in bunches of one hundred, do not order a less amount of any one variety. We will be glad to mail samples upon request.

If ordered alone, varieties marked with a star (*) in list of varieties on pages 6 and 7 the price will be one dollar per thousand higher than quoted in this list.

The above prices are for a general assortment of leading varieties.

Piece root grafts are made by using about six inches of scion and three and one-half inches of root. They are tongued together and securely wrapped at the union, making the entire graft about eight and one half inches long. This style of graft we use mostly in our own plantings.

<tr>

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

This style of graft is made by using about six inches of scion and a well-branched seedling. The entire seedling is used, making the union at the collar and wrapping with waxed thread, which holds it firmly until calloused. Many nurserymen prefer to plant this kind of graft claiming that they get a larger growth owing to the well-formed root system.

This class of grafts is made in the same manner as those on branched roots using the same length scion but a straight seedling instead of a branched.

AMERICAN GROWN

Apple Seedlings—Our apple seedlings this year have held their foliage well and are free from any insects or disease and we are sure that they will be very satisfactory to the trade.

In growing our seedlings, we scatter out our plants selecting choice new land and above all avoiding old tree or seedling ground. It takes extra equipments to grow seedlings this way but we consider that the superior quality pays us for the extra expense.

Our apple seedlings are left in the ground as late as possible, taking them up just before freezing weather which allows them to mature fully. We handle them carefully avoiding all unnecessary exposure.

We are prepared to ship from this place or from Topeka, Kansas. At both places we are equipped with special storage and grading buildings for the handling of seedlings.

We make up car-load lots to various distributing points, loading in refrigerator cars, which gives the most of our customers the advantage of car-load rates with quick and safe transportation. Generally the car-load freight rates are about one half of what the local freight rates are. This year we are making the following distributing points: Winchester, Tennessee; West Chester, Pennsylvania; Baltimore, Maryland; Dansville, New York, Rochester, New York; Spokane, Washington; North Yakima, Washington; Portland, Oregon; Hood River, Oregon; San Jose, California; and Salt Lake City, Utah. To secure the advantage of car-load rates, orders should be placed early.

FRUIT TREE STOCKS

FRENCH GROWN

While severe drouth conditions have prevailed in the nursery sections of France this past summer, yet we expect to have a fair supply of French stocks to handle this season although some items are already sold up. It is very important to place orders at once for your wants.

We have our own representative in France who has the seedlings grown on contract by small farmers. He personally looks after the grading and packing of all stocks and they are then shipped in car load lots to us at Shenandoah. Here we open up all the boxes and carefully inspect the condition and grading before sending them out to our customers. I believe those that have used our French seedlings will say that our grades are usually better than the average.
